

Marcella Kanfer Rolnick is Vice Chair of GOJO, the leading global producer and marketer of skin health and hygiene solutions and THE INVENTORS OF PURELL™. In this role, Marcella encourages her fellow team members to seek possibilities to make the world better and champions sustainability, innovation, collaboration, non-stop learning and organizational effectiveness. She also focuses on creating meaning and value every day through her diverse family enterprise, which includes GOJO and an array of early-stage ventures and philanthropic foundations.

Marcella serves on a wide variety of nonprofit and for-profit boards, including the Advisory Board of the Fowler Center for Sustainable Value at Case Western Reserve University. She holds a Stanford MBA and BA from Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public & International Affairs. From Akron, OH, she resides in Brooklyn, NY, with her husband and four children.